

ClearML Developer Certification (CLEARML-DEV)

COURSE OVERVIEW

Master the integration of machine learning (ML) models into applications using ClearML. In this course, you will learn to consume pre-trained models via APIs, embed them into web or mobile applications, and collaborate with Data Scientists and ML Engineers in an existing ClearML environment. The course covers ClearML SDK usage, API-driven model serving, and app integration with frameworks like Flask and FastAPI. Labs progress from basic API calls to building a fully integrated application, culminating in a capstone project that delivers a mock e-commerce recommendation system. Ideal for developers with Python and API experience, this course offers ClearML Developer Certification from Alta3 Research, ensuring practical skills for real-world ML integration without deep ML theory.
